

Eighteenth-century Manuscript Culture in the Wider Gaelic World: The Manuscripts of Rev James McLagan (1728–1805) in Context

Date: Wednesday 19 June 2019, Royal Irish Academy, 19 Dawson Street, Dublin

Tickets: Full price €10 Concession (student, retired, unemployed) €8

Booking: Eventbrite.ie

- 9.15 Fàilte | Fáilte: Prof. Alan Titley MRIA
- 9.30 Dr Sim Innes, University of Glasgow
Creating a McLagan online resource: ‘Teanntachd Mhòr na Fèinne’ as case study
- 10.00 Dr Geraldine Parsons, University of Glasgow
‘Mas Oisean liath mi’: James McLagan’s Ossianic interests in a military context
- 10.30 Prof. Pádraig Ó Macháin, University College Cork
The moral of fianagheacht
- 11.00 Tea/coffee
- 11.30 Prof. Roibeard Ó Maolalaigh, University of Glasgow
Muiris Ó Gormáin Manuscripts in Scotland
- 12.00 Prof. Nigel Leask, University of Glasgow
‘My scepticism is vanishing like the morning mist’: John Leyden and Ossian Tourism, circa 1800
- 12.30 Dr Peadar Ó Muircheartaigh, Aberystwyth University
McLagan and Ossian in the Isle of Man
- 13.00 Lunch and Library Exhibition
- 14.00 Dr Síle Ní Mhurchú, University College Cork
On the manuscript transmission of some of the lays of Fionn mac Cumhail
- 14.30 Dr Anja Gunderloch, University of Edinburgh
‘Laoidh an Deirg’ in the McLagan Collection
- 15.00 Prof. Ruairí Ó hUiginn, Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies
‘Laoidh Chonnlaoidh’: text and transmission
- 15.30 Tea/coffee
- 16.00 Alasdair MacIlleBhàin
Performance of songs from the McLagan manuscripts
- 17.00 Close

Acadamh Ríoga na hÉireann
Royal Irish Academy